

What is The Legendary Silkie Irish Whiskey?

The legendary Silkie is a blended Irish whiskey bottled by Sliabh Liag Distillers. While they build their whiskey distillery, they have sourced the finest double and triple distilled malts, soft grain whiskey and a hint of peated malt, inspired by the legends of the Donegal Coast. Silkie was awarded 88 points (silver medal) by the Beverage Testing Institute in 2020

What makes Silkie special?

The Silkie seals of the Donegal coast are mythical shapeshifters who transform into beautiful women when they shed their seal skin coats. The Legendary Silkie Irish Whiskey is inspired by these enchanting sea maidens. Bottled at 46% ABV the whiskey is not chill filtered giving a rich character to a super soft whiskey. Presented in a tall elegant bottle, the Silkie label is reflective of the blue/green colour of the sea at the foot of the Sliabh Liag Cliffs.

How to enjoy Silkie:

Silkie can easily be enjoyed neat or over ice.

Mix with ginger ale and garnish with an orange peel for a "Silkie Rua". Silkie is an excellent whiskey for mixing with its rich complexity shining through in any classic cocktail.

Try an Irish Manhattan or a Silkie Old Fashioned with rhubarb or cherry bitters rather than Angostura.

Tasting Notes:

Nose: Fresh with gentle malt, green apple opens up to a more honeyed butteriness

Taste: Super soft, warm sweet honeyed ginger bread, hints of orange zest, brioche and butterscotch

Finish: Warming elegant finish with the slightest hint of peat
