

D'AINCOURT

Cognac

D'AINCOURT 1^{er} Cru de Cognac is a remarkable blend of very old eaux-de-vie, some of which date from the beginning of last century.

They all come from Grande Champagne, Premier Cru de Cognac, and were selected for the elegance of their aromatic notes.

Because of the extreme rarity of the eaux-de-vie used in the blend, only around a hundred bottles of D'AINCOURT Premier Cru de Cognac are produced each year.

This elixir is an amazing and unique sensory experience that will delight lovers of cognacs seeking a taste of nobility.

GRANDE CHAMPAGNE

APPEARANCE

An amber appearance with hints of copper, as you would expect from a very old Cognac.

NOSE

Hugely elegant with the great complexity of very mature Grande Champagne. It opens out into magnificent, generous aromas of fruit (orange peel, candied melon, roasted pineapple), Christmas pudding and Havana cigar, mingling with pepper and oak notes.

PALATE

The attack is an ode to Cognac rancio with gourmet notes of jammy fruit (currant, prune, quince paste) and sumptuous spice (Timut pepper, cinnamon). Iris root, burnished leather, Havana cigar and mature oak then join forces.

The hugely complex finish is exquisite, with delicate notes of smoke and oak enhanced by the wonderfully lingering effect.

On tasting, D'AINCOURT 1^{er} Cru de Cognac proves to be hugely elegant with remarkable aromatic complexity to be explored in private, timeless fashion...

A sensory experience that is an invitation to contemplation.
