BRAND OVERVIEW

Based in the Boyne Valley, Listoke 1777 has become one of the biggest distillers in Ireland. First appearing on maps in 1777, Listoke has evolved throughout the centuries while keeping traditional cultures of Ireland's Ancient East. History and lore have met modernity in the form of creative technology that produces Ireland's most iconic gin. Using an iStill 2000, Listoke gin has been perfected using 9 different botanicals that capture the enchanting surroundings of the Emerald Isle.

Listoke 1777 is created using 9 botanicals: Juniper, Coriander, Angelica Root, Orris Root, Cassia Bark, Sweet Orange, Wild Irish Rowan Berry, Cardamom, and Jasmine. Small Batch Irish Gin is created in batches of 350 liters at a time. Utilizing local water from the Boyne Valley, Small Batch Irish Gin is a glance into the terroir around the Listoke 1777 distillery. Listoke is a member of Origin Green which certifies businesses for exemplary ethical use of water and energy for its products.

Juniper stars briefly giving way to citrus notes that linger. Alongside cardamom, rowan berries provide a perfect amount of spice and heat. Keeping the delicate flavors of the gin, Dry Martinis with a twist are an excellent vehicle to showcase Ireland's Ancient East.

BOYNE VALLEY DISTILLING: SPIORAID NA BEATHA (SPIRIT OF LIFE)

The Boyne Valley has a documented history of 5,000 years of distilling. The Ancient East Ireland has a rich history in producing some of the finest spirits on the island.
