

SHORTCROSS RYE AND MALT IRISH WHISKEY

Rademon Estate

Rademon Estate is the first craft gin and whiskey distillery in Ireland, founded by Fiona and David Boyd-Armstrong. Fiona found her inspiration from a passion to rekindle the lost art of distilling in Northern Ireland. The Shortcross brand takes its name from the local village, Crossgar. In Gaelic or Irish, Crossgar means the 'Short Cross', they are proud to have the village name on each and every bottle produced. Each bottle is hand crafted and dipped in wax, showing each bottle is as unique as its new founders.

The Irish whiskey journey began in 2015 when they distilled the first ShortCross whiskey on Ireland's smallest copper pot still. Each cask of ShortCross Irish Whiskey has been carefully crafted and proudly distilled, matured, and bottled at the Rademon Estate Distillery, down to the water used in each batch sustainably sourced from a well on the estate.

The blended whiskey is created with a unique mash bill of 100% Irish malted rye and malted barley. There are just three main ingredients: 100% Irish grain, water from their well, and yeast. The whiskey is aged for a least 5 years in a combination of virgin chinkapin oak and ex-bourbon barrels, and is non-chill filtered and contains all natural color to ensure the purest flavors of the island. Every detail is carefully considered from mash bill to fermentation, distillation and maturation, striving to create as much flavor as possible in each step of the process.
